The ideal school

The ideal school: a project

What to do:

1. «If you had freedom and money - what ideal school would you build?»
2. Listen freely: «the schedule, who teaches, what they study, where they sit, how they're graded…»
3. Then - find the contradictions: «You want freedom + discipline. You want individuality + teamwork. How do you combine that?»
4. This is the entry into TRIZ contradictions - where the greatest inventions live.

Try this too:

«And how do you make a school that children, parents, and teachers all like at the same time? Where's the difficulty?»

What we practised:

«Utopian projects aren't idle fantasy. They teach you to see „how it should be" - and that's the first step toward real change. Many education reforms began with conversations like these.»
